Fakten zur Lage auf den Philippinen

🦙 Laut Unicef ca. 60. 000 – 100. 000 Kinder zur Prostitution gezwungen und in Menschenhandel verstrickt

🦙 Sexuelle Ausbeutung im Internet hat sich laut einer Studie der International Justice Mission während der Pandemie verdreifacht

Awareness-raising and advocacy

- The work continues despite the challenges posed by the pandemic.
- Awareness raising among rights-holders

- Raising awareness on human rights at the grassroots level is very important because this is where a lot of cases of child abuse and exploitation are being reported

- Advocacy and capacity building work among duty-bearers

- School-based and community-based duty-bearers are equipped with information on various laws for the protection of women and children and are oriented on the mandatory response on dealing with child abuse and exploitation cases

What happens after the survivors recover?

- Prevention of re-victimization and regression

• Reintegration Services

When the children have recovered at the Preda Home and when there is no more threat to her safety in the community, she is reintegrated with her nearest and supportive family/relatives.

• Aftercare Services

- The reintegrated children continue to be monitored (online, by phone) regularly by the Preda aftercare social worker to monitor her situation, they are still provided with legal aid and educational assistance to ensure that these children are in school and are no longer re-victimized. The children as well as their parents/guardians also receive psycho-social interventions done online.
